

Q3 2024 Operations Summary

Overview

The third quarter closed ahead of plan. Revenue grew 12 percent against Q2, driven largely by renewals in the logistics segment rather than new logo acquisition. Churn held flat at 3 percent. The board asked that we treat the renewal concentration as a risk rather than a success, and that framing is reflected in the priorities below.

Headcount

We ended the quarter with 48 employees, up from 41 at the end of Q2. Engineering accounts for 22 of those. Two senior hires in the data platform team started in September and are still ramping.

Berlin office

The Berlin office opened in August and now hosts the commercial team. The lease runs to 2027. Utilisation has been lower than expected, at roughly 40 percent of desks on an average day, and we will revisit the footprint in Q1.

Priorities for Q4

First, reduce dependence on the logistics segment by closing at least four accounts outside it. Second, complete the migration off the legacy scheduler, which continues to cause weekend pages. Third, publish the internal service catalogue that was deferred from Q3.
